

filmstream

artstream in downtown Rochester, NH presents Rochester's second Short Film Festival: "filmstream". In the spirit of community, film as an art form and the area's desire for more film related events, artstream has recognized this need and decided to help fill it. Short subject films in any genre will be accepted for review for this mini film festival event slated for November 2006.

This is our second year doing filmstream. We are still learning.
Our categories are simple. One for students. One for everyone else.
There are two prizes in each category. One audience pick. One judges pick.
Last year the prize trophies were sculptures from Jane Kaufmann.
This year they will be sculptures from Adam Pearson.
We are looking for sponsors to perhaps add a cash prize to that.
The selected works will be shown on November 18, 2006 at artstream, 56 n main, rochester, nh.

Rules for entries

There are no themes or categories other than student/everyone else.
The film has to be 15 minutes or less and has to be made in 2005 or 2006.
Entries should be submitted on DVD or VHS by 10/16/2006.
That's it.

General Terms and Conditions

Submission fees are non-refundable. Checks should be made out to: artstream. Filmmakers grant artstream to use excerpts or stills for promotional purposes. All submitting filmmakers will receive an email by November 1st, 2006 with filmstream's decision to accept or decline their project for screening. The list of accepted works will be posted on artstream's web site directly thereafter. Each of the accepted submissions will receive a pair of complementary tickets to the screening evening.

filmstream will not return copies of submitted projects unless a self-addressed stamped envelope is included. Accepted films should submit a press kit including the following: Screening copy of film in DVD or VHS, log line: (1-2 sentence summary) and Short Synopsis (100 words or less), filmmakers bio/resumee, any release forms needed, completed entry form.
